She will go from here to her old home in Denver and will subsequently visit in Iowa cities, Chicago, New York and other points. In August she expects to sail for her old home in Sweden where she will visit relatives. She will also visit in Scotland, Belgium and other European countries before returning. The McAllister home on North Thompson street will be occupied during her absence by Mr. and Mrs. James S. Johns.

The Care of Children

The Baby With a New Name.

A tear and a smile from the Jersey City contest. The name of its 100 percent baby was Edward Dean. At least that was what the good nurses at the Baby Clinic had called him. Father he had none. His mother had vanished in the flames and jetsam of city life. He was a mere wail, pinched, wan, weepy, when the nurses undertook his regeneration by scientific care. He was placed under a strict regime, regular diet, regular sleep in fresh air. He was weighed and measured at regular intervals. And he was transformed into a perfectly proportioned and nourished baby. The nurses entered him in the Better Babies contest conducted by the Jersey City board of health and won the Woman's Home Companion. Edward rolled up a score of 100 percent. Mothers were amazed at the standing of this unmothered baby. Doctors saw in it the triumph of intelligent care. Newspapers wrote him up. The story reached a home where empty arms yearned for a baby. Edward has gone to fill those arms. He has a mother, a father, a home, and a new name—all because Jersey City held a Better Babies contest.

A Special Train for Better Babies.

At the state fair contest, held in Helena, Montana, it was proved that long distances do not dismay parents who have the interest of their babies at heart. One young couple walked five miles to bring their first baby to the examination. A mother staged twenty-five miles before she could take a train for Helena in order to learn how her baby scored. The babies from Butte, examined on a special day, arrived on one train known as the "Butte Better Babies Special."

FOUR POUNDS GOES CHEAPER THAN TWO

McMinnville Man Found It Necessary to Add Two Old Magazines to Package to Get Benefit of Rate.

ALBANY ORE., March 30.—Through a peculiar regulation in the parcels post rates, applying to miscellaneous printed matter, two pounds was added to a package sent from McMinnville to Albany, and it was sent cheaper than it could have been without the additional weight.

When C. H. Stewart, manager of the commercial club, received the package from J. C. Cooper, in charge of the Yamhill Walnut Experimental station, Stewart wondered why two 16-year-old magazines were in it, until he also received a letter of explanation from Mr. Cooper.

"I found it necessary to put in two more pounds of padding to get the benefit of the rate," wrote Mr. Cooper. "According to the ruling of the department, two pounds can be sent from McMinnville to Albany for 16 cents, and four pounds can be sent for 8 cents. I tore off a few of the pages of each magazine to make the weight correct. I might have put in a few rocks or stove wood, but that would not fit as well as do the magazines."

Road Work Is Planned.

WASCO, Ore., March 31.—Every resident of Wasco is expected to don overalls April 9, and put in a full day's work on the John Day grade, 12 miles east of Wasco. This was built last year by Sherman county at an expense of $7000.

The day has been declared a holiday by Mayor Morrow and autos will carry the workers from town.

A Traveling Exhibit in Texas.

Dr. A. C. Ellis of the University of Texas is doing fine work for babies in the southwest. He has organized a staff of university workers to address mothers' meetings and assist in examinations at Better Babies contests, and he has made up an important traveling exhibit, consisting of literature, posters, diagrams, etc., on health and hygiene, which is loaned at fairs and contests.

Home Hints and Recipes

Fine Salad and Full of Color.

Boil a cauliflower whole until nearly done, let it get quite cold, separate the branches and lay them neatly around a center of jellied tomato. This is made by cooking, seasoning and straining a quart can of tomatoes, adding quarter of a box of gelatin soaked in cold water and molding in a bowl. When well hardened, place in a circle of lettuce leaves, surrounded with branches of white cauliflower. Serve at table with a dessert-portion of a salad that is also a symphony in color, says the New York Tribune. A row of asparagus buds walling the tomato jelly instead of the cauliflower, is sometimes preferred. Both are delicate and ornamental.

To Skin Carrots.

If when preparing carrots they are boiled briskly five minutes then put under the faucet and cold water run on them a minute the skins will slip off as do those of boiled beets, says Los Angeles Express. Then they can be cooked in the usual way. This does away with the task of scraping them.

Chronic Stomach Trouble Cured.

There is nothing more discouraging than a chronic disorder of the stomach. It is not surprising that many suffer for years with such an ailment when a permanent cure is within their reach and may be had for a trifle. "About one year ago," says P. H. Beck, of Wakelee, Mich., "I bought a package of Chamberlain's Tablets and since using them I have felt perfectly well. I had previously used any number of different medicines, but none of them were of any lasting benefit." For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

MILLIONS OF BALKAN WAR BULLETS RECLAIMED

PARIS, March 30.—Millions of bullets fired during the Balkan war have just arrived at Marseilles and are to be manufactured into bottle-tops and lead pipes. The bullets, picked up on battlefields, were in 2055 sacks of 100 pounds each and were sold to dealers in scrap metal. Something like 70 tons of cartridge shells arrived with the bullets.

The Forty Year Test.

An article must have exceptional merit to survive for a period of forty years. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was first offered to the public in 1872. From a small beginning it has grown in favor and popularity until it has attained a world wide reputation. You will find nothing better for a cough or cold. Try it and you will understand why it is a favorite after a period of more than forty years. It not only gives relief—it cures. For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

ANNA HELD SUES MOVIES.

Actress Says She Objects to Competing With Herself in Pictures.
NEW YORK, March 30.—The thought of having herself shown in motion pictures throughout the country is so distressing to Anna Held, who once took a milk bath to gain publicity, that she sued a motion picture company yesterday for $250,000. She also wants an injunction to stop the use of the pictures.

Church's wife told relatives who killed Hart. Francis McGuin, who had taken part in the controversy, was killed in his own home by a shot fired through the window.

FLIGHT IN AIR DELIGHTS.

Walla Walla Girl Says She Feels Safer Than on Busy Street.
WALLA WALLA, Wash., March 30.—Ane feels safer in an aeroplane 2000 feet in the air than in an automobile in the crowded streets of a city, declared Miss Jessie Jones, a Walla Walla girl now attending school in Los Angeles.

In a letter to friends she describes her sensations while aloft, with Glen Martin. Following the ride in the air she took a ride in Martin's auto and compared the two trips with the odds in favor of the air craft.

"One is not at all afraid, but there is a delightful feeling of excitement," she writes. "Houses seen from the ship look like little paper boxes and the vehicles like some sorts of bugs crawling about."

ROSEBURG BOYS IN A "BRIGAND'S" CAVE
Youngster Recently Released From the State Industrial School, Threatened Officer Who Would Investigate

ROSEBURG, Ore., March 30.—"Don't you go near there if you don't want a bullet shot into you," Wilford Simmons, aged 10, told Constable Singleton when the officer expressed his intention to search a cave near Cottage Grove which young Simmons confessed he and some other boys had fitted up like the home of a brigand, and which, he said, was guarded continually by an armed sentinel.

Simmons was recently released from the state industrial school and returned to his father at Dillard. He was arrested at Cottage Grove, where he was living with his mother, charged with placing rocks on the railroad track near Dillard. He later confessed to the operations of a small gang at Cottage Grove of which he was a member.
